JAIL MIGRANT FOR BEATING OF COUNTY MAN

Albert P. Heare, 66, Bendersville, today is recuperating from lacerations of the left side of the scalp while his alleged assailant, John Thomas Hampton, 28, a negro migrant worker from Marianna, Ark., is in the county jail awaiting arraignment before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder here this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Heare was found in an orchard on the John Pitzer farm, near Bendersville, Sunday afternoon after having been the object of search by firemen from Biglerville, Bendersville and Aspers.

State police, who charged Hampton with assault and battery and expect to bring a robbery charge against him, gave this story of the incident:

Moses Jenkins, a migrant gang leader at the John Pitzer farm, reported to Pitzer Sunday morning that he had heard from among his migrants that a white man had been hit over the head Saturday evening and was lying somewhere on the farm "bleeding bad." Jenkins told Pitzer he had sought to report the matter when he first learned of it Saturday night but was unable to find Pitzer at that time.

From a description of the injured man, which fit Heare, Pitzer called Heare's family and found he was missing. The firemen were then called in to conduct a search of the orchard.

Found about 5 o'clock Sunday evening, Heare was removed to the Warner Hospital by the Biglerville ambulance and received treatment for his head injuries at the hospital.

Police said they understand the alleged assault took place about 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and said that it was alleged that Hampton removed a wrist watch from Heare and left him in the orchard. They said they planned to bring a robbery charge later today.

Door Is Open To Negotiate Berlin Crisis If Reds Wish

By TOM OCHILTREE

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Four foreign ministers made clear today they are willing to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin problem but left the next move to the Soviet Union.

After a two-day review of the crisis resulting from Soviet Premier Khrushchev's new drive to end the allied occupation of West Berlin, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany said they would talk with the Soviets "only on a reasonable basis" but that the Soviets have done nothing so far to provide for such an approach.

The talks must be conducted on a "plane of mutual respect," a French spokesman said. A British spokesman said Moscow's last notes to the four allies, threatening a separate peace with the East Germans and demanding a new status for West Berlin, amounted to "abuse which does not provide reasonable basis for negotiation."

KHRUSHCHEV SPEECH

The Western powers decided to await further developments before taking any initiative toward an East-West conference. One of these developments will be Premier Khrushchev's speech tonight.

Khrushchev, reportedly angered by President Kennedy's speech on the Soviet challenge to Berlin, is expected to reply when he goes on a nationwide radio and TV network. The Soviet leader reportedly told visiting Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani he considered Kennedy's speech excessively belligerent.

Leaders of the Communist Warsaw Pact nations discussed Saturday night they had decided in a secret three-day Kremlin meeting.

YOUNG ADAMS DEMOCRATS WIN HONORS

The Adams County Young Democrats Club was chosen as the second most outstanding county unit out of 50 in the state at the annual Young Democrats of Pennsylvania conference held over the weekend at Sunbury.

First place went to the Lackawanna County organization, which has 4,300 members. Armstrong County's unit won third place.

Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis praised the three county units in a talk Saturday night. Telling the 250 Young Democrats present he had reviewed the activities of the various county clubs for the year, he added: "You could not have made a better choice of the top three."

Otis B. Morse, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, told the Young Democratic clubs they are "to become an arm of the party's state committee. The Young Democrats will share office space with the state committee at Harrisburg and receive funds from the state-wide organization." Morse said the move was "designed to give young people a bigger voice in party affairs."

Russell Milnes, Aliquippa, was named the "outstanding Young Democrat of the year." Michael Lauro, Conowingo Twp., chosen as the "outstanding Young Adams County Democrat," was unable to take part in the state contest because business prevented his presence at the state session.

Fifty-eight national convention delegates were chosen, including four from Adams County: Gilbert Lupp, vice president of the state organization; Ronald Guise, president of the Adams County unit; Joseph Harsh, president of the Gettysburg College Young Democrats, and William Troxell. The national convention will be held at Miami in December.

Guise served as chairman of the conference rules committee for the session at Sunbury; Lupp moderated panel discussions and was chairman of the outstanding awards committee; Troxell was chairman of the resume of club activities committee; Harsh served on the resolutions committee. Other delegates from Adams County to the state session included John Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Foster Beard.

Red Spaceman Makes 17 Circuits; Is Landed Safely After 25 Hours In Sky

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov successfully landed today in his space ship Vostok II after making more than 17 circuits of the globe.

The 26-year-old major—second Russian to fly around the earth through space—was in the air 25 hours and 18 minutes. He traveled about 435,000 miles—far enough to go to the moon and back.

"Comrade Titov is healthy and feels very well," Moscow Radio said.

LANDING SITE

The broadcast said he came down in a "pre-determined area" near the landing site of the first Soviet spaceman, Yuri Gagarin, after his history-making flight April 12. Gagarin, who made only one orbit of the earth, reportedly landed in southern Russia about 450 miles southeast of Moscow.

Titov, son of a retired Siberian school teacher, manually controlled his orbiting spaceship for

MORE THAN 700 ON FARM-CITY PROGRAM TOUR

More than 700 persons, including tourists from New York and New Jersey, visited the Mason-Dixon farm of Clarence J. Waybright and Sons during the annual Farm-City Day held by the Gettysburg Young Farmers Saturday afternoon and evening.

Members of the Kiwanis Club manned the refreshment stand, members of the Business and Professional Women's Club served as hostesses and staffed the registration desk and the Young Farmers and members of the Future Farmers of America served as guides.

The visitors had an opportunity to view one of the oldest and best equipped farms in the county. The farm, including rented acreage, covers more than 900 acres near Natural Dam and on tours conducted by hay wagon, the visitors had an opportunity to see a large part of the operation.

SEE M-D MARKER

They also saw four generations of Waybrights at the farm which has been owned by the Waybright family since about 1750. Oliver J. Waybright, eldest of the clan, was present. Also assisting in conducting the visitors were his son, Adams County Commissioner Clarence J. Waybright; grandsons, Horace and Richard Waybright, and great grandsons, Tod, Doyle, Bert and Jeffrey. The original farm of 140 acres was purchased by Michael Waybright (spelled then Wypreck) for 550 pounds in 1790. Michael Waybright was born in Germany in 1728, and apparently farmed the "home farm" until his purchase of it from John Penn, an heir of William Penn.

During the tour of the farm on the tractor-drawn hay wagons, the visitors had an opportunity to see a marker placed in the 1750s by the English surveyors, Mason and Dixon, as part of the "Mason-Dixon line." The mile marker is located approximately in the middle of one of the fields of the Waybright farm which lies in both Pennsylvania and Maryland.

On display was a new drying shed in which 12 tons of hay can be dried overnight from 35 to 40 per cent moisture to about 10 per cent moisture.

SEE MILKING PARLOR

Guides explained that the dryer permits retention of a much larger amount of protein in the hay, and cuts down the amount of labor per ton. The visitors also saw a section of the $25,000 building in which 10,000 bushels of grain can be dried at one time. They also watched the cutting of hay in the fields.

4 Generations Farm-City Day Hosts

Four generations of Waybrights were on hand Saturday afternoon to greet visitors to the Mason-Dixon farm, near Natural Dam, during the annual Farm-City Day held by the Gettysburg Young Farmers at the 900-acre farm. The "home farm" portion of the property has been in the Waybright family since about 1750. Shown are (left to right), standing in rear, Richard C. Waybright, his grandfather, Oliver J. Waybright; Clarence J. Waybright, Richard's father, and brother, Horace J. Waybright. The youngsters who are the great-grandchildren of Oliver Waybright are Tod, Doyle, Bert and Jeffrey, shown standing with their respective fathers. The farm is now operated by Clarence J., Richard and Horace Waybright as partners. Many changes have come in the two centuries the farm has been in the Waybright family. The back of the house now faces the road, for when it was built the "Harney Rd." passed in front of what is now the rear of the house. At one time a store was operated in connection with the farm. East Germans Claim Many Commuters Seek New Jobs

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communists claimed today large numbers of commuters are giving up their jobs in West Berlin and looking for work under Red rule.

The Communists have been putting commuters under heavy pressure. People who live in Communist areas and work in West Berlin now have to pay rent and many other bills in Western currency, instead of Communist-issued money worth only one-fifth as much.

Junge Welt, the Communist youth daily, said that since early Saturday calls have been piling up at East Berlin factories from commuters who want new jobs. It reported that East Berlin's biggest department store, run by the state, is taking on salesgirls who used to work in West Berlin.

POOR SERVICE

Poor service in shops, due largely to lack of sales help, is a cause of complaint in all Communist countries—especially East Germany.

Refugees are still coming in large numbers from Communist East Germany, though the flow ebbed in comparison with last

CHANGES AT ARENDTSVILLE LAB LISTED

The Pennsylvania State University Fruit Research Laboratory at Arendtsville announced today several staff changes and a building program intended to improve and expand the research work on fruit in southern Pennsylvania.

Dr. F. H. Lewis, pathologist at the fruit research laboratory and professor of plant pathology at the university, has been granted a six-month sabbatical leave to study the citrus business in Florida with particular emphasis on citrus diseases and research methods.

He and his family will move to Lake Alfred about August 20 where he will work at the University of Florida citrus experiment station until March 1, 1962. The orange production in Florida is greater than the apple production in the entire United States, and it is felt that a study of the work on oranges might provide new ideas for work on apples, peaches and cherries in Pennsylvania, the announcement said. This study will supplement those already made in northern and western United States and in western Europe.

NAME NEW MAN

Dr. F. N. Newstow, horticulturist at the laboratory and professor of horticulture at the university, has been granted a three-month sabbatical leave to study the new developments in orchard weed control and plant nutrition at Cornell University. BONNEAUVILLE BECOMES 12TH COUNTY TOWN

Bonneauville Saturday became Adams County's newest borough—the first to be created since 1903 when Biglerville was incorporated.

Incorporation of Bonneauville as the county's 12th borough was signed by Judge W. C. Sheely Saturday who at the same time handed down an opinion removing a number of farms which had originally been included within the proposed borough limits.

The new borough starts with a population of 647, an assessed valuation of $225,693, 305 tax payers and 241 landowners.

"NOT TOO SMALL"

In his opinion, Judge Sheely noted that "the village of Bonneauville is a progressive community and has been the scene of considerable building within recent years." He added: "Some mention was made at the hearing before the court to the effect that the proposed borough would be too small to operate efficiently. According to the stipulation there would be 647 people living within the area after the farm land was excluded. According to the 1960 census there are five boroughs in Adams County having a smaller population: Abbottstown, 561; Arendtsville, 588; Bendersville, 484; Fairfield, 519, and York Springs, 384, all of which operate efficiently."

In granting the incorporation, the court removed from the borough limits farmland owned by George J. Gebhart, John J. McMaster, Rita McMaster, Willard O. Doss, Lillian Doss, Ruth A. Toomey, David Toomey, Josephine Clabaugh, Bernard Clabaugh, Guy Clabaugh, Thomas B. Gebhart, Helen M. Chrismer, Helen Roberts, Hugh Roberts, H. H. Crouse and Meta C. E. Yingling. Farmland of Ambrose Myers, Mrs. James Kuhn and Eugene E. Craig, who have since signified their desire to be included in the proposed borough, is included in the 569.6 acres incorporated as a borough.

OPPOSED BY SUPERVISORS

The court noted that when a hearing was held on the proposed incorporation the only persons appearing in opposition were the supervisors of Mt. Pleasant Twp. Later 19 persons petitioned that their farm land be excluded from the borough. Still later three of those asked to have their land included.

REDISTRICTING PLAN TO BE GIVEN TODAY

The redistricting plan proposed at Harrisburg today would leave the present Adams, Cumberland, York District unchanged.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania Democrats prepared to unveil their long-awaited congressional reapportionment plan today. House Majority Leader Stephen McCann called a news conference at which he said the plan would be outlined before being submitted to the legislature.

Even as McCann got set to talk to newsmen, House Minority Leader Albert W. Johnson, R-McKean, said there wouldn't be a single Republican vote for a reapportionment bill proposing retention of six seats in Philadelphia.

KEPT SECRET

"We expect Philadelphia to give up a congressman, we (Republicans) are willing to give up one and then sit down with Democrats and figure out as fairly as possible where the other seat can be cut," Johnson told a newsman.

He said the district where the third seat is lopped off should be one "where Republicans and Democrats are pretty evenly divided, where neither side has an advantage over the other."

Democrats took pains to keep the redistricting plan a secret before McCann's news conference. However, legislative circles seemed convinced they would keep six seats in Philadelphia.

LONG DELAY

The Democratic plan's submission has been held up for months because party leaders wanted to see if Congress would increase its size. Such action would have permitted Pennsylvania to keep from losing all three because of population changes reflected in the 1960 census.

Talk of reapportionment was expected to dominate things as the Senate and House returned for what might be one of the newest weeks of the current session. The House is returning after a 10-day recess.

3 NAMED TO SCHOOL BOARD

The Adams county court Saturday appointed James W. Reichart, Littlestown R. 2; Richard J. Neiderer, Gettysburg R. 5, and William L. Bense Jr., Littlestown R. 2, as school directors in Mt. Pleasant Twp. to take the place of three men who are disqualified as township directors because their portion of the township has merged with the Lower Adams school system.

The appointment was made on a petition submitted by 40 residents of Mt. Pleasant Twp. who noted that Joseph W. Clabaugh, Bernard P. Murren and Clement B. Hawn, three of the five members of the Mt. Pleasant school board all reside in the area of the township north of the Gettysburg-Hanover Rd. which was included in the merger.

As a result of the merger, the only independent part of the Mt. Township school board is that south of the Gettysburg-Hanover rd. and thus only two board members remain.

SET HEARING DATE

In granting the petition, the court appointed Reichart to fill the vacancy caused by the automatic removal of Clabaugh from the board. Neiderer to fill Murren's and Bense to fill Hawn's vacancy. Reichart's term ends this December, Neiderer's in 1963 and Bense's in 1965.

The court set August 21 as the date for a hearing on naming a guardian for Carol Kay Little, Patty Louise Little and John and Kay Little, all of E. King St., Littlestown, to "protect their rights" under the will of Frank L. Mathias, who died in Union Twp. in 1950. The will provided that the children of David S. and Marian Little should receive equal shares of the income from a bequest until they reach 21. The Littlestown National Bank as trustee under the will of Mathias had no difficulty filling the bequest up to the present time. Now, according to the petition, one of the heirs, Ned Allen Little has reached age 21 and it becomes necessary to give him his share under the estate, and thus necessary for a guardian to be appointed for those still under 21.

versity of Delaware. He has moved to Arendtsville and is now studying the effects of fungicides on spore production, release and germination in the fungus which causes apple scab.

An addition to the rear of the present laboratory has been authorized and is expected to be constructed this winter. The addition will include two rooms designed to provide space for additional work in plant pathology and entomology.

Professor Dean Asquith will be in charge of the building program and of any business pertaining to the work of Lewis and Hewetson until their return.

"These changes represent a considerable amount of effort and personal expense on our part to maintain an adequate service to the Pennsylvania fruit industry in spite of two major factors affecting our work," Dr. Lewis said today. "First, as at other universities, there has been a great increase in pupil enrollment and expenses at Penn State without a proportional increase in income. This has led to a decrease in fruit research work at University Park and abandonment of large pest-control research projects in some of our neighboring states. Second, there has been a strong post-war acceleration in the trend to produce each agricultural crop as a large-scale business enterprise in that section of the United States where the crop can be grown most efficiently."

"Adams County has participated in this trend as illustrated by the fact that the number of apple trees in this county has increased by one-third since 1954 while the industry was static or decreasing in some other areas. We have the natural resources, the proximity to large city markets and the money to survive in the fruit business. It remains to be seen whether we have the will and the knowledge to make changes fast enough to keep the business growing and avoid the crisis that could be brought about by poor planning."

as evidenced by its acquisition of street lighting and its steps to secure water and sewer facilities as well as the erection of road side signs indicating the name of the village. With six roads converging in the village the area is ripe for development and it is entirely understandable that the residents would like to promote and control that development by laying out of streets and by zoning. While the township supervisors have been cooperative in the various ventures that have been undertaken in the village, the supervisors may or may not be residents of the village and they must also give their attention to the other parts of the township, whereas a municipal government would be responsible only for the welfare of the borough and would be made up of local residents.

"The township supervisors are quite properly concerned about the loss of tax and other income from this area. . . . The testimony indicated . . . (it) produced real estate taxes of $2,025 per year . . . per capita tax of $15.15 and liquor licenses which produce $450 per year."

"This is a proper matter for consideration by the court . . . but it has been held that 'the disadvantages to the township supply no good reason for denying the right of incorporation as a borough to residents seeking to attain an efficient local self-government suitable to their needs. The law never intended to protect a township in maintaining its boundaries intact at the expense of a town within its borders' . . . To hold otherwise would result in denying all progress in a community. . . ."

LOWER TAXES DOUBTFUL

The court held that legally it could include farmland within the borders of the town borough if the land "is so related to the developed portion that it will naturally and within a reasonable time come to be built up and improved."

In their petition to the court, the Bonneauville residents had held that incorporation would lower taxes. The court said that a "tax saving is problematical. While it is true that most of the roads in the area are state highways and there is a small amount of township road which would have to be maintained by the borough, this saving in road tax might well be offset or exceeded by the cost of maintaining a borough form of government. Furthermore the suggested saving in school tax may well be just an illusion. Incorporation of the area into a borough would not of itself create a new school district or remove the area from the existing joint school systems to which it now belongs. That could be accomplished only by application to the state Department of Public Instruction, the policy of which has been to encourage the creation of larger school districts and to discourage the creation of small independent districts."

Practical Joker Is Really Snowed

MARTINSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Mailman Paul Dilling is the No. 1 practical joker in this Blair County community. But this time he's "snowed."

He and his wife, Shirley, returned Sunday evening from a holiday at the shore to find special "holiday greetings" throughout their home.

The outside of the house was outlined in many-colored blinking lights. A large Christmas tree, trimmed with gifts, nearly filled the living room. And a coating of artificial snow whitened the rest of the house.

It's the town's secret who decorated the home. But it's no secret Dilling's friends wanted to play a practical joke to end all of Dilling's jokes.

Cat Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Thunder Storm: During the thunderstorm of Sunday week, the barn of Mr. Henry Erisman, in Conewago township, was struck by lightning and consumed, with its whole contents, except a new carriage and a four-horse wagon, which were saved. The entire harvest of Mr. E. was destroyed—wheat, rye and hay; also his harness, rye-mowing mill, straw-cutting, hay-ladders, &c. His loss is estimated at $2000—no insurance. Mr. Rufus Krug had purchased one-half of the crop, and his loss will be several hundred dollars.

During the same storm, a valuable cow upon the farm of Dr. Hendrix, near Gulden's Station, was struck by lightning and killed. The storm was a very general one. We observe that several buildings in Baltimore were struck by lightning, among them the Gen Wayne Inn, corner of Baltimore and Pacha streets.

First U.S. Volunteer Regiment: The first U.S. Volunteer regiment of artillery from Pennsylvania, Col. Rush commanding, left Harrisburg on Monday evening for Washington. Twelve regiments of Pennsylvania Reserves were to leave Harrisburg yesterday for Washington; and the Jackson Regiment of Pa. Volunteers Col. Murphy, left Philadelphia on Saturday for Harper's Ferry. Troops were pouring into Washington daily from every direction—so that there must be a very large force congregated there. Rifled cannon were coming in at the rate of ten a day.

Bill Passed: A bill passed Congress on Friday, making recruiting in any State or Territory for service against the United States a high misdemeanor punishable by fine and imprisonment from one to five years. Those secessionists in Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri, who have been secretly and openly gathering up men for the rebel ranks, had better look out—for what "Old Abe" says he will do, he WILL DO.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Married In The Open Air: One evening last week a man and a woman made application to N. Dittmer, of Littlestown, to be married. When it was discovered that the license they exhibited was from Maryland, there was considerable dismay in the party, but soon it was agreed that the parties would cross the line to have the ceremony performed. Accordingly the clergyman and the applicant were soon in one vehicle, proceeding at a round pace for the desired point, holding the horse with one hand and his prayer book in the other, the worthy minister made the twin one, by the lantern's light, and the parties then made for their respective destinations.

Rebel Skeleton Discovered: On Wednesday morning Edward Menchey dug up the skeleton of a Rebel in his field east Cemetery Hill. The bones were in comparatively good condition. A number of bullets were lying along side the skeleton, having fallen from the cartridge box, which was all rotted. A small bottle was also found, with a label bearing the imprint of "Richmond," apparently an ink bottle.

Fire In Chambersburg: The large frame elevator and warehouse of the Western Maryland Railroad, in Chambersburg, was destroyed by fire at midnight Saturday night. The elevator was occupied by Stoner and Stitsly, who run in connection with it a roller process flouring mill. Their loss on grain, flour feed, machinery and engine house amounts to $15,500, upon which there was an insurance of $9,000. The building belonged to the railroad company, and was valued at $18,000. On it there was an insurance of $7,500. The fire is supposed to have been of spontaneous combustion. It originated in the cellar.

Today's Talk

WORK AND CHANGE
Work is valuable only as it makes us more valuable. That is why occasional changes are so necessary. The brain doesn't like to be whipped along day after day without variety. Vacations are essential to every organization. Every employer must recognize this fact. To give a vacation to an employee is always investment for management. When I have gone on vacations I have preferred to have as few plans as possible. I have just wanted to run "wild." I haven't wanted to be interfered with. When I "vacation" I want no responsibility to keep whispering to me. I want to learn new things about life in my own way.

And so I have gone to the country, or to my beloved Nova Scotia, where life is fullest in its original garb. I talk to the trees in a silent language and I review the tasks of the city. And I run over my mistakes and blunders and decide to be strong in the future where I have been weak in the past.

Along the shores of some great lake I have walked and meditated upon all the history that it holds in its heart. And early in the morning I have plunged into its waters and come out refreshed in mind as well as in body.

I talk to the bronzed toilers of the field. I get their honest and sincere expressions of what life in their particular locality means to them. I find them happy and sane. They are not bothered with beating out the other fellow or in winning what may not be theirs. I spend days with the birds. I am always thrilled by new varieties. I listen to their calls and watch them as they reveal their habits. Birds all seem to be happy. I see no long faced ones among the lot.

The country retreat offers peace. It is so still and my spirit is calmed. Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Man Who Tries"

Just Folks

PUNISHMENT

Their childhood is so brief that we Should hesitate to spoil their fun;

We should be very slow to see The things that they should not have done.

For such a little while they play Before the rough, long roads they tread.

We should be careful every day To send no weeping child to bed.

So few the years that are their own.

So brief the time to romp and play,

So very quickly are they grown To face the battles of the day

That we should hesitate to mar With punishments, however slight.

The days that Oh, so precious are, And turn to grief a child's delight.

Too soon will come the long days when

They'll often heavy-hearted be, And they'll look back on childhood then

And think of you and think of me.

And we should have them then recall When we are sleeping in the grave,

Not how we punished children small, But how we kissed them and forgave.

ALPERN OKAY

COMING SOON

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Minority Leader James S. Berger said today he thought there was a good possibility Atty. Gen. Anne K. Alpern would be confirmed as a Supreme Court justice this week.

"Speaking for myself I think there is a good chance she'll be confirmed this week," Berger said before the Senate GOP caucus. "I don't see any reason for delay at this point."

Miss Alpern's name was before the upper chamber for approval last week but Republicans asked for more time to consider the appointment.

The action sparked talk that the GOP might hold off confirmation until fall. "There was positively nothing like this discussed in our caucus last week," Berger said today. "I told our people that this was an important appointment, that it had just come before us, and that we needed time to study it."

BUSINESSES WATCHING AGE GROUP GROWTH

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The two markets in the United States that are growing the fastest and attracting the specialized attention of business are made up of those under 19 and those over 65.

But coming up fast is still another, the 20 to 29 year olds, who will increase greatly in number in the next 10 years and become a market all its own, the young marrieds.

Many products are aimed almost exclusively at one or the other of the three groups. And for other products, the biggest market opportunities are found where one or the other is expanding rapidly.

WATCH MARKETS

The smart businessman is watching this and also noting the regions where the percentage of one or the other is declining.

For America is still a nation on the move. And just as you can't recognize some communities now from their pictures of 10 or 20 years ago, the makeup of one area today can't be taken as a guarantee of what it'll be like 10 years hence.

That's why businessmen watch population growths, shifting age groups, and changing regional patterns. It's not an exercise in statistics for them. It's a matter of markets for their goods, labor supply for their factories, and differing tastes of consumers, as well as the camp-following problems of transportation and distribution.

MORE MONEY TO SPEND

The under-19 group has more money to spend now than it had when grandfather was a boy—and it spends it for different things. It makes up a market that runs into billions of dollars a year. Some companies cater exclusively to this group with its peculiar wants. Others get a major share of their sales from it. And many with predominantly adult following are now turning to making models designed to tap the teen-age market.

The under-19's jumped by 33.5 per cent, from 51.2 million in 1950 to 68.4 million in 1960.

In most states this was the fastest growing age group. But not in all. It was noted in the 1960 census that communities showing a decline in total population usually reported a smaller percentage of younger persons than the national average. This apparently was tied closely to the migration, especially of the young marrieds and their children, to metropolitan centers and industrial areas.

MORE AGED TOO

The growth in the national total of those over 65 was about as fast as that of the very young, although the totals are much smaller. In the 1960 census there were 12.2 million 65 years or older. In 1960 this had swelled to 16.5 million. California attracted most of them with a gain of 481,000. New York was second with 429,000 more in the 10 years, and Florida third with 315,600.

Catering to the 65 and older has sparked the rise of specialists in medicine, a whole new category of drugs, and increased hospital facilities. But there have been other changes in the purely business field. Some food products are aimed at this group. Homes, and also housing developments, designed to meet its needs are springing up in many sections, but especially where retired persons like to congregate. Apartment houses also are being built for them.

Travel agencies more and more are specializing in tours aimed at one age group or another. Some types of sports equipment have found a big market for those over 65.

AVALANCHE COMING

Many businessmen, however, are watching just as closely an age group that didn't expand during the 1950s but is due to increase greatly in this decade. This is the 20 through 29 group. In 1960 there were 21.6 million of this age.

In a study published by McGraw-Hill, the J. Walter Thompson Co., an advertising agency, predicts that in 1970 there will be 30 million young men and women of this age when most new families are formed. In its book, "Population and Its Distribution: the United States Markets," businessmen are told to get ready for the potential avalanche of new family units needing homes, appliances, home furnishings, and children's clothes and toys. For some products the young family is the most important market of all.

Dear Sir:
We had visited Gettysburg eight years ago and were impressed by the charms of your quaint town. However, upon our recent visit we were dismayed at the crass commercialism which exists along the path that Lincoln took to the National Cemetery.

We were shocked to see some of the old buildings which have been razed to be replaced with the honky-tonk atmosphere of circuses, ox roasts and souvenir stand "museums."

We hope something will be done to prevent further encroachment upon such a vital part of our American Heritage.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Montgomery

My MARY SUE MILLER

GET HIP TO FASHION. Have you been meaning to trim your hips this summer? Have you done it?

Dawdies had best get busy. Fall fashions move closer to the body. The newest ring the hips via belts, band and seaming. Obviously, these hippy accents and hipness are not made for each other. But then when were good fashions and poor figures ever a match?

For slicing off an inch or two, at least a month of daily exercise is required. As a mighty sharp, triple-edged routine, use this:

1. Lie down on floor, with legs together and weight centered on side hip. Keeping knees straight, quickly fling legs apart (fling leg on floor forward, other leg backward). Slowly return to starting position and repeat 20 times. Then turn and give other side same workout.

2. Back down on floor, hug knees to chest with arms and center weight on right upper hip. Now rotate knees, clockwise in small circles. Continue for 20 counts. Now shift weight to left side and circle knees in anti-clockwise direction—20 counts.

3. Sit erect with legs straight out and together; stretch hands to sides, about six inches off floor. Briskly roll from side to side, using hands for push and momentum. Forty counts.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Springfield's Chuck Teuscher ended a 12-inning pitching duel with a three-run homer Sunday night as the Giants defeated the Lancaster Roses 3-0.

Paul Doyle (10-4) struck out six and walked five in winning his second shutout of the season, Ed Kikla (3-2), a 20-year-old student at Penn State, was the loser despite the better record of eight strike outs and no walks. Both pitchers went the distance.

Teuscher's homer, his 11th, came after Ricky Joseph singled to right and then went to second on Sid Harvey's safety to left.

The victory increased the Giants lead in the Eastern League to six games. In other games, Johnstown split a double header with Binghamton 5-2 and 1-3, while Reading moved out of the league cellar by beating second-place Williamsport 5-3.

McDowell Is Best Junior Linksman

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Sandy-haired Charles McDowell of Virginia Beach, Va., is the 14th junior champion of the U.S. Golf Association.
McDowell, 16, Sunday defeated Jay Sigel of Whitmarsh, Pa., a pre-tournament favorite, 1-up in the 18-hole final on the three-lined Cornell University course.
McDowell finished the 18 holes four over the 36-35-71 par of the 6,593-yard course.

NETMAN BIDS FOR STAR ROLE AS UNDERDOG

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Allen Fox, the unseeded sensation of the tennis circuit, today resumes his struggle to cut the big names down to his size as the Eastern Grass Court Champion tennis opens at the Orange Lawn Tennis Club.

Fox, the 5-foot-8 national collegiate champ from UCLA, became the first unseeded player in recent years to win the Meadow Club title at Southhampton, N.Y., when Australian Bob Mark defaulted Sunday with a painful leg cramp.

"I was sorry for Bob, he was in terrible pain," Fox said. "But I wished I could have finished the match."

FOX IN COMMAND

Fox was in command, 5-7, 8-6, 6-1, 4-4 when Mark, writhing in pain on the court, was forced to default.

At Southhampton, Fox, of Los Angeles, upset three seeded players—a third-seeded Frank Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla., fifth-seeded Ron Holmberg, Brooklyn, in the semifinals, and Mark, the top-seeded foreign entrant.

In the Easters, Fox figures to breeze into the third round, where he probably will run into top-seeded Chuck McKinley, the little St. Ann, Mo., slugger who was the runnerup to Australian Rod Laver in the Wimbledon championship last month.

Anne Decker Beats Barbara McIntire

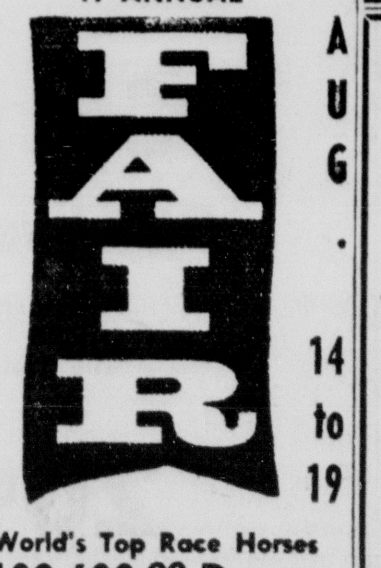

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Anne Quast Decker is narrowing the gap in her personal golfing rivalry with Barbara McIntire.

The 24-year-old history teacher from Seattle beat Miss McIntire 3 and 2 in the 36-hole finals of the Western Women's Amateur Golf Championship at Annandale Golf Club Saturday. It was the second victory in six meetings for Mrs. Decker.

It also squared their personal score at 1-1 in WWAGC play. Miss McIntire, of Jupiter, Fla., won in 1958.

Mrs. Decker, 1958 U.S. amateur champion, was 1-down after the morning round but gained four holes on the first nine of the afternoon round to build up her winning edge.

MOVIE WRITER CHECKS FILM SETUP ABROAD

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—And now the summing up.
Five weeks of roaming film locations in Europe has been an enlightening process. As Tony Quinn remarked: "Hollywood isn't a place any more. It's the movie business everywhere."
Here are some things I learned in covering Hollywood, European branch:

INFLUENCE DROPS

1. The influence of American films has dropped in Europe.

You feel it everywhere you go. People tell you the Hollywood product isn't as important as it used to be. When you see some of the new American films that are playing abroad, you can see why. They are slapdash productions with neither the vitality nor the fun that our movies once had.

2. European theaters seem to be playing more reruns than summer TV in America. It's depressing to see so many old pictures being played, some dating back to the war.

LOCAL VIGOR

3. The vigor of Europe's local film industries is amazing. Studios in England, France and Italy are humming with activity. Part of this is due to the luring of American companies by cost savings. However, new union regulations in England are making production there less attractive.

Mostly, the European film industries are thriving because of a burst of creativity—a new crop of directors who are taking up where the Hollywood masters left off.

4. Censorship is nagging the European film makers almost as much as those in Hollywood. When I was in Milan, a meeting of Italian directors petitioned for an end to all government controls on film content. This was turned down by officials, who are increasingly alarmed by sex emphasis of Italian films.

GOVERNMENT CONCERN

There appear to be few controls in France but much government concern. Some films are banned for export. And more and more English movies are getting Britain's X rating—banned for children.

5. Hollywood's picture of American life is alarming. Our good friends in Europe are dismayed by the recent American films. Perhaps the sophisticated Europeans realize that sex, sadism and crime are not the norm in the United States. But this constant film diet must be making an impression on the masses.

What can they think when they see Academy winner Burt Lancaster battling senseless delinquents in "The Young Savages"? They have been exposed to many such films and few, if any, present contemporary America as it is.

6. The picture is not entirely black. When Hollywood films are good, they are very, very good, as evidenced by the long runs for "Gone With the Wind" and "Ben-Hur."

Golfer George Bayer, one of the game's longest hitters, wears size 14D shoes.
Sophomore tackle Scott Appleton at 229 pounds is the heaviest man on the Texas football roster. He's 6-foot-3.

Seek Rent From 2 Shipbuilders

WASHINGTON (AP)—The New York Shipbuilding Co. of Camden, N.J. and the Bethlehem Steel Co., San Francisco have been charged with using Navy-owned facilities rent-free to build commercial ships.

The General Accounting Office (GAO) recommended Friday that $1.4 million in back rent be sought from the firms. The companies contend their arrangement for using the facilities does not require any payment of rent.

The report said New York Ship has built three commercial tankers on building yards partially owned by the government.

The report added that Bethlehem and New York Shipbuilding claim they owe no rent because the World War II contracts under which the facilities were built—and under which no rent was charged—still are in effect.

JUDGE TO BE INTERMEDIARY IN ART THEFT

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An Allegheny County judge says he is acting only as a private citizen in the role of intermediary for the return of 10 valuable paintings stolen from Pittsburgh industrialist G. David Thompson.

Judge Henry X. O'Brien of Common Pleas Court said Saturday he has agreed to act as an intermediary for Thompson, a personal friend. The paintings were taken from Thompson's suburban Whitehall home July 29.

"I will not be an intermediary in the sense that I will be dealing with crooks directly," O'Brien said. "No money will be handled by me. I will be acting as a person making a public appeal for the paintings' return."

BIG REWARD

He said an intermediary could arrange to recover the paintings and even arrange for payment of the money, but he couldn't arrange not to prosecute or grant any immunity.

O'Brien appealed to "anyone who may know the whereabouts of these paintings" to contact him.

Thompson has offered a $100,000, no-questions-asked reward if the works are returned undamaged. Stolen were six Picassos, one Miro, one Matisse and two Legers. Other paintings were damaged by the thieves. He declined to estimate their value.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE SALTZGIVER FAMILY

The genealogical notes on the Saltzgeber family, one of whose members, at least, is buried in the "Upper" Low Dutch Churchyard of the Conewago, are continued at this time.

The old files of the "Adams Sentinel" (later the "Star and Sentinel"), a treasure trove of historical and genealogical data, contains information on the Saltzgevers — under the dates given.

7. Monday, December 31, 1838 — "Married, October 25, 1838, by the Rev Benjamin Keller, of this place, Mr. Daniel Saltzgeber, of Straban Twp., this county, to Miss Catharine Frey, of Cumberland Twp., this county."

Note: — Probably a brother or first cousin of Michael Saltzgeber, the father of Columbus Gilbert Saltzgeber, who is buried in the "Upper" Low Dutch Graveyard.

"WANDERING FOOT"

8. Monday, July 12, 1841 — "Died, July 2, 1841, George Saltzgeber, of Menallen Twp., this county, in the 72nd year of his age."

Note: — Another branch of the Saltzgeber family about which nothing is known. This is the first member of the clan to live outside Straban Twp. Probably George Saltzgeber had a "wandering or restless foot."

One reason that might be given for a Saltzgeber burial in the Dutch Reformed Churchyard is the Brinkerhoff-Saltzgeber intermarriage and there are many Brinkerhoff graves in this burial ground. It is interesting to note that the little son of Michael Saltzgeber is interred close to the Brinkerhoff family burial plot. Jehial J. Brinkerhoff married Sophia Saltzgeber.

GRAVES ARE MOVED

Included among the old graves moved from the burial grounds of St. James Lutheran and Trinity Reformed Churches, Gettysburg, to the Evergreen Cemetery some years ago, were four belonging to the Saltzgeber family. Needless to say there may have been others for both of these churchyards were terribly desecrated through the years. The inscriptions follow: —

1. "In memory of John Henry Saltzgeber who departed this life December 11, 1822, aged 32 years and 2 months."

2. "In memory of Eve Mary Saltzgeber who departed this life August 21, 1822, aged 76 years, 8 months and 2 days."

IDENTICAL MARKERS

Note: — Eve Mary Saltzgeber was obviously the wife of John Henry. They are buried side by side and the grave markers are identical.

3. "In memory of John Saltzgeber who departed this life February 25, A.D., 1837, aged 64 years and 11 months."

JOINT SCHOOL BOARD MEETS TUESDAY AT 8

The joint board of the Littlestown Joint School System will hold its monthly meeting at 8 p.m. on Tuesday at the high school building on Maple Ave. Plans will be completed for the opening of the 1961-1962 school term in September. Individual board sessions will follow. The school directors will discuss the formal dedication of the new junior-senior high building on Park Ave.

Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6964, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the post home, W. King St.

The Youth Fellowship of St. James' United Church of Christ, along the Harney Rd., will have an outing on Tuesday from 5 to 9 p.m. at Crouse's Pool, near town. The Littlestown Rotarians will meet at the home of Charles E. Slusser, along the Littlestown-Gettysburg Rd., at 6:15 p.m. on Tuesday. The Rotary information committee, Luther W. Ritter, chairman, will be in charge of the program.

300 AT PICNIC

Approximately 300 roast turkey and ham suppers were served at the annual Sunday School picnic of Grace Lutheran Church, Two Taverns, on Saturday.

Mrs. Irvin R. Kindig, near town, who will be hostess to the members of the Starr Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church for the annual corn bake, has announced that this affair will be held Thursday of this week at 7 o'clock. This is not the regular meeting night, but the corn is ready and the gathering will take place this week. Mrs. Ernest R. Sentz and Mrs. Cleason Plunkert will assist as hostesses.

The Ever Willing Class of St. John's Lutheran Church will meet Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the church grove for a picnic supper. Mrs. Harriet Boller and Mrs. Mary Ellen Bortner comprise the food committee.

TOT-LOT TO CLOSE

The Junior Woman's Club of Littlestown will close the Tot-Lot during this week, because of the carnival being held on the playground. Club officers and members also make an appeal to parents of children of school age, to request their children to discontinue use of the equipment on the Tot-Lot when it is reopened next week. All of the play equipment has been designated for preschool age children and a large amount of unnecessary damage results from the older children's use of it. The equipment on the playground has been provided by the community for the use of six-year-olds and up, and the equipment on the Tot-Lot, purchased by the Junior Woman's Club, is for preschool age children only.

Volunteers of Alpha Fire Company No. 1 answered an alarm at 1 p.m. on Sunday at the Littlestown News Agency, located in the Jacob Riley building on the square. Two pumpers and the service truck were taken to the scene and two booster lines were used. The fire was confined to the basement of the building and is believed to have been caused by a short circuit, as reported by Fire Chief Richard Stuller. The basement was used for storage.

County, Pa., as the "head of a family." This Dennis Van Duyn is probably buried beside his wife, Mary Van Duyn, in the "Upper" Churchyard, in an unmarked grave.

The notes on the Van Duyn family will be continued in this column next week.

Two MARKED GRAVES

Note: — Many members of the Cassatt family, including William Anderson Thompson's maternal grandparents, are buried in this graveyard.

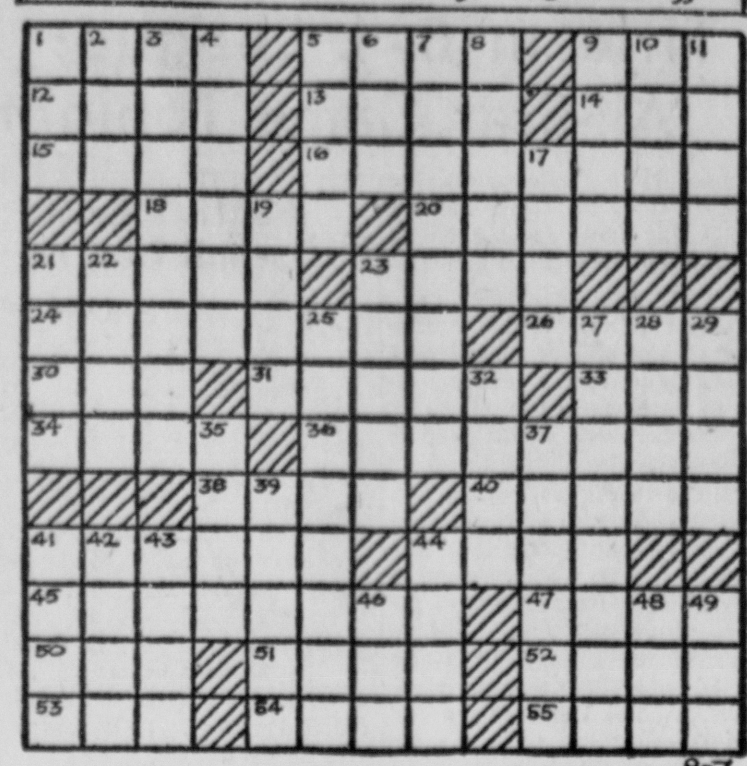

The Van Duyn family, genuine "Dutch" stock, are represented in the "Upper" churchyard by two marked graves. As in practically every other case there were probably other members of this clan interred here in graves that were never marked or from which the stones have long since disappeared. The inscriptions follow: —

1. "In memory of Mary Van Duyn, consort of Dennis Van Duyn, who departed this life February 19, A.D., 1810, aged 49 years."

2. "In memory of Susannah Van Duyn, consort of Ralph Van Duyn, who departed this life December 14, A.D., 1806, aged 77 years."

TAKE SOVIETS' TRUMP IN STRIDE IN D. C.

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official Washington took the Soviet Union's second manned spaceship flight in stride. The general attitude was let's get on with our own space program.

Here and there an ominous note was struck—that the Soviet space success possibly portends a military threat to the United States. The consensus was that the Soviets had scored a major accomplishment.

Typical of the let's-be-calm mood was the remark of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

SENATOR COMMENT

"We shall do it in due course in equal and even larger degrees. Our space progress has been excellent and will pick up steam as it goes along," Dirksen said.

Among those looking at the dark side of the Soviet feat was Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

"There are some indications that a satellite of this size could be utilized as a very dangerous weapon," Russell said.

STEVENSON'S VIEW

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said at Hyannis Port, Mass., after conferring with President Kennedy on U.N. matters: "Russia's scientific contribution to the conquest of outer space commands our admiration."

"Orbiting a new astronaut for a longer period is another step forward. Let us hope the capsule is recovered and the life of this brave man saved."

Stevenson told newsmen he was sure these were also the views of the President. He added that he and Kennedy shared the view that space control was necessary and that they hoped the Soviets will "no longer delay in joining us in cooperative regulation in the use of outer space."

NOT UNEXPECTED

George M. Low, chief of the National Aeronautic and Space Administration's program, said the Soviet achievement had been expected by American space officials.

Low said it would be "quite some time yet" before the United States could hope to duplicate it. The U.S. program, he said, was "being pushed hard and has been pushed hard," but cannot go faster than it is going.

At Langley Air Force Base, Va., announcement of the Soviet achievement was received with typical calm by the U.S. Mercury astronauts. A spokesman, Lt. Col. John A. Powers, said: "None of us are particularly surprised."

SKYWATCHERS SEE SHIP AS BRIGHT STAR

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"A very bright star" and "a marble."

These were among the ways earthbound spectators described the manned space satellite carrying Soviet spaceman Gherman Stepanovich Titov as it whizzed over this section of the globe.

A Moonwatch team at Allegheny Observatory in Pittsburgh sighted the satellite twice and reported it looked like "a very bright star."

SIZE OF MARBLE

In Charleston, S.C., radio newsmen Bob Townsend stepped out of the WTMA newsroom and sighted Vostok II through patch clouds. It "looked about the size of a marble," he said.

In Arlington, Va., M.-Sgt. James A. Duffy tuned his radio to one of the frequencies given for the spaceship "just for the heck of it."

Duffy got a message which heh recorded on tape. Translated by a Soviet Embassy attache and broadcast over local station WTOP, the message said:

"Attention, attention. Flying over North American continent. Sending my friendly greeting to the people of North America from the Soviet spaceship Vostok II. Cosmonaut Titov."

Believe U.S. Alienated Asian-African Countries

Veteran AP staffer William N. Oatis has chronicled the moves of the United Nations' powerful Asian-African group for eight years. Here Oatis cites the growing belief among diplomats that Asian-African resentment over the United States' middle-ground stand on Tunisia has damaged American chances of mustering enough support for assembly action on Berlin.

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Diplomats believe the United States has hurt its chances of getting U.N. action on Berlin by alienating many Asian-African nations through its neutral position in the French-Tunisian dispute.

These delegates claim the United States lost much support in the 46-member Asian-African group by failing to denounce France's military action against Tunisians blockading the French Bizerte naval base.

One African moderate said the United States now would have a hard time getting the two-thirds majority needed for General Assembly condemnation of any Communist pressure on West Berlin.

GET FEW VOTES

He predicted the United States would get few if any votes from the Asian-African if the Berlin crisis is brought before the 99-nation assembly.

One informed observer said the U.S. stand on Bizerte had canceled out the support the United States had won from anticolonial nations when it sided against Portugal on the African-Angola issue in both the assembly and Security Council last spring.

The United States voted for a Security Council resolution favoring a cease-fire in Bizerte and calling on both France and Tunisia to pull back to their pre-battle positions. But it shied away from any proposals that implied criticism of France.

BERLIN CRISIS BREWS

American sources said privately the time is inappropriate for a stronger U.S. position. The United States has been careful not to offend France while the Berlin crisis is brewing.

Delegates said it would be ironic if such strategy would result in losing support the United States needs on the Berlin issue.

They noted that several countries that usually side the United States have come out in favor of a special assembly session on Tunisia—a move strongly opposed by the United States. They include Iran, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand and Turkey.

The Asian-African group, promoting the special session, is only three votes short of the 50-nation majority needed to call one. It seems likely it will get the extra three early this week.

This would be a defeat for U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson who has been pushing for direct negotiations and saying a special session is neither necessary nor desirable.

Red Spaceman

open to mankind in the mastery of the cosmos.

Circling the globe every 88.6 minutes, Titov swung in an orbit that reached a maximum altitude of 159.59 miles and a minimum of 110.5 miles.

GAGARIN ROUTE

Gagarin's route was longer with a minimum height of 110 miles and a maximum of 188 miles.

Over and again Titov kept sending word back to earth that he was in great shape. "Am feeling fine. I feel excellent under conditions of weightlessness. Shipshape order on board."

The historic flight proved that a man can undergo the rigors of a flight to the moon without excessive ill effect.

SOVIET PURPOSE

The Soviets said the purpose of the flight was to study the effects on a human being of prolonged orbital flight and the descent to the earth's surface.

(Many Western observers surmised that the flight had been timed to reinforce Khrushchev's drive to end the Western Allies' occupation of West Berlin and particularly the threats to Berlin Khrushchev is expected to make in a major broadcast tonight.)

Like Gagarin's flight, Titov's was greeted in both the Western and Communist world with praise for the Soviet scientific achievement. Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's giant radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, termed it "another important step in the Russian plan to populate the solar system beginning with the invasion of the moon in a few years' time."

Several West European newspapers said the flight was more evidence of the Soviet lead over the United States in the space race. But the news of Titov's flight was accepted calmly in Washington. Space officials and others showed no surprise.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—J. O. Christianson, 63, superintendent of the University of Minnesota School of Agriculture since 1939, died Sunday of a stroke.
